

THE Leadership

LEADING NOW

OUR PURPOSE AND PRINCIPLES

We believe deeply that leadership is the activity of mobilizing others to achieve a common objective. As such, anyone can lead anytime, anywhere – and everyone can learn to lead better.

For 37 years, our purpose has been to transform Baltimore by developing and connecting those who lead in the city and metropolitan region's organizations, institutions and communities.

FACING LEADERS TODAY

Those of you leading in Baltimore today, whether from positions of significant responsibility or in roles without formal authority, face a daunting array of unprecedented challenges in your professional, civic and personal lives.

You confront uncertainty, disruption, and often isolation, particularly outside of tight professional and social/family circles. You recognize the urgency for change, knowing that the future will be very different.

You also understand that today's disruptions provide an opportunity to create better futures, from our individual lives to transformations in society.

The background on the left side of the slide features a pattern of overlapping hexagons in various shades of orange, creating a textured, honeycomb-like effect. The text 'LEADING NOW' is centered within this pattern.

COMPETENICES

TO LEAD NOW

When faced with tremendous uncertainty for which no playbook exists, when complexity is high, change is rapid and the challenges and opportunities are enormous, individuals and groups that exercise these leadership competencies will more effectively and more creatively solve problems than those that do not.

Our new programs will help you to develop the mindsets, tools and frameworks to strengthen the competencies to effectively lead now and into the future.

- Convene diverse groups
- Engender common purpose and values and the collective will to work towards them
- Enable every individual in the group to bring their full selves to the task
- Foster deep collaboration, especially across differences
- Facilitate the group to see larger systems and power structures at work, while navigating tremendous uncertainty and complexity
- Unleash the group's collective genius to create innovative solutions that will address systemic challenges to transform individuals, organizations and communities

INTRODUCING LEADING NOW

THE LEADERSHIP'S

TRADEMARK ELEMENTS

Though new and innovative, our Leading Now Gateway and Deep Dive Cohort will embody the trademark elements that have created the power and transformation of our flagship program for 37 years.

- Experiential, Interactive Learning
- Diverse Participants Along Many Dimensions
- Peer Connection
- Authentic And Challenging Dialogue
- Skill Development
- Individual Application
- Baltimore As Our Context

INTENDED AUDIENCE

Our Leading Now programs are intended for our alumni and those typically interested in our flagship program.

We seek individuals with significant experience leading others, whether from positions of significant responsibility or in roles without formal authority.

Most importantly, we aspire to convene groups of leaders who demonstrate:

- A commitment to improving their leadership effectiveness
- A thirst for learning and personal growth
- A willingness to be challenged and a commitment to support others' learning

OUR FACULTY

With expertise ranging from race, equity and inclusion, to design thinking and adaptive leadership, our faculty team has co-designed and will co-facilitate the Leading Now portfolio, tightly integrating program content into a holistic learning experience.

What participants are saying:

“The timing of the Gateway was great. It was a time to reflect on where we've been, where we are, what could be.”

“The Gateway allows leaders the time and space – even virtually – to ‘get on the balcony’ and think more intentionally about team engagement, while learning new, replicable tools for approaching adaptive challenges.”

“Two thumbs up for the Gateway! A big shout out to the rock star faculty team. They presented this beautiful amalgamation of inclusion, design thinking and leadership principles.”

Join us to co-create what it means to lead in a future that none of us can yet fully imagine.
